Understanding Your Good Faith Estimate

SUNTRUST

MORTGAGE

Live Solid. Bank Solid.

The disclosures you receive when applying for mortgage financing are valuable tools in your search for the right loan. We've prepared this booklet to help you understand one of the most important disclosures all lenders are required to provide - the Good Faith Estimate.

We hope this booklet will help you shop smarter and be confident in the choices you make, because we believe you deserve to be well informed about your mortgage financing.

Good Faith Estimate (GFE)

All lenders must disclose to you details about the terms of the loan they are offering and the normal costs associated with the loan. It may seem like a lot of paperwork, but disclosures provide you with vital information that can help you make a wise decision.

Within three business days of receiving your completed mortgage application, SunTrust Mortgage, Inc. will send you a very important disclosure that will help you compare our loan terms with those from other lenders. This disclosure is called the Good Faith Estimate.

All lenders must use the same standard GFE form when disclosing their loan terms. The GFE specifies which costs will be charged by the lender, the settlement agent or attorney, and other third-party service providers, such as an appraiser. These costs are referred to as "settlement charges" on the GFE but are commonly called "closing costs."

Because the GFE is used by all lenders and the charges are consistently labeled and grouped into specific categories, you will be able to accurately compare financing costs.

The terms of your loan

The first page of the GFE discloses some important information about your loan, such as whether the loan has an interest rate that can change and how long the loan terms are available. It also provides the name and contact information of your SunTrust Mortgage loan officer and the effective date of the GFE.

1 Important dates: This section of the GFE tells you how long the interest rate quote and settlement cost estimates are valid. If you lock in your interest rate at application, it gives you the number of days you have to close your loan before your lock expires.

If you do not lock in your interest rate at application, your interest rate will "float" up or down with the market. The GFE tells you how many days before closing you have to lock in your interest rate if you've chosen to float.

2 Summary of your loan: This section shows you the exact amount of the loan you've applied for, how many years you will have to repay the loan, and how much your initial monthly payment will be. The dollar amount shown for your initial monthly payment represents the principal, interest, and any mortgage insurance. If you have applied for an interest-only loan, the initial monthly payment will only represent the interest and any mortgage insurance.

A Can your interest rate rise? If you have applied for an adjustable rate mortgage (ARM), the answer to this question will be marked "yes," because your interest rate is variable and may actually increase after a specified period of time. This section also states the maximum percentage the interest rate may rise and the date of the first interest rate change.

B Even if you make payments on time, can your loan balance rise? If your loan has a negative amortization feature, the answer to this question will be marked "yes," because the mortgage payment you make is for an amount that is less than the interest due. Therefore, the difference you owe is added to the principal balance.

SunTrust Mortgage does not offer loans with negative amortization features.

C Even if you make payments on time, can your monthly amount owed for principal, interest and any mortgage insurance rise? This box will be marked "yes" if you have applied for an ARM, because the interest rate on your loan is variable after a specified period of time.

D Does your loan have a prepayment penalty? If the loan being offered to you has a prepayment penalty, the answer to this question will be marked "yes." You will also see the maximum dollar amount you will be charged if you pay off your loan before the maturity date.

E Does your loan have a balloon payment? Loans with a balloon payment are typically short-term loans. At the end of the term, the remaining principal balance of the loan is due all at once in a lump-sum payment. This is called the balloon payment.

3 Escrow account information: If your loan requires escrow, the answer to this question will be marked "yes." Escrow refers to funds that are collected monthly by your lender to pay your taxes, homeowner's insurance, and flood insurance, if applicable. In some states, these funds may be called "impounds."

Escrow payments are additional to the principal, interest and any mortgage insurance you pay. The monthly amount due for escrow may increase, because it is based on anticipated real estate tax assessments and insurance premiums which change periodically.

4 Summary of your settlement charges: This is a summary of the closing costs, which are detailed on page two of the GFE.

Estimated closing costs

Your estimated closing costs are split into two sections. Section A contains those costs charged by SunTrust Mortgage. Section B are all other costs associated with the closing.

A – Your adjusted origination charges

- 1 Our origination charge: This is our charge for originating the loan. This amount covers the costs for document review and handling, inspections, wiring of funds, rate locks, application processing and any other charges related to the administration of your loan origination.
- 2 Your credit or charge (points) for the specific interest rate chosen (“points” or “discount points”) you must pay or any credits you might receive for getting a certain interest rate.

As a lender, SunTrust Mortgage is permitted to include your credit or charge, if any, in the total origination charge listed in Box 1. If a credit or charge has been included in the amount shown in Box 1, the first block in Box 2 will be marked, and your interest rate will be indicated.

If you want a lower interest rate, you can pay points. If you want a credit to help offset all or a portion of the closing costs, you can select a higher interest rate.

3 Required services that we select: This box contains fees for services provided by third-parties, other than the settlement agent or attorney. Examples of the types of services that appear in this box include appraisals, flood certifications, credit reports, and any mortgage insurance paid upfront. SunTrust Mortgage selects the vendors who provide these services. The GFE will identify each required service along with the associated charge, and the sum of all the charges will be shown in the total column for this box.

4 Title services and lender's title insurance: Charges relating to the actual closing of your loan, such as those charged by the settlement agent or attorney, are contained in this box. Examples of settlement services include conducting title searches, ordering title insurance, preparing settlement statements, and receiving and disbursing loan proceeds. The amount in this section would also include any lender's title insurance premiums. Lender's title insurance protects SunTrust Mortgage from loss if the title search proves to be defective and the validity of our Deed of Trust or Mortgage is ever challenged.

We are required to provide you with a guaranteed quote for title services; however, you do not have to choose the provider we have identified. You may shop for your own. If you do select your own provider, any cost guarantees given by SunTrust Mortgage will not apply.

5 Owner's title insurance: If you are purchasing a property, we are required to provide you with a guaranteed quote for an owner's title insurance policy. This type of policy insures your rights of ownership and covers your interests exclusively.

6 Required services that you can shop for: This section details any other services we may require as a condition of settling your loan. Examples of these services might include surveys or pest inspections. Each required service will be indicated on the GFE along with a guaranteed quote from a provider we have selected.

You don't have to use the provider we've identified for these services and may shop around for your own; however, if you do not choose the provider we've identified, any cost guarantees given by SunTrust Mortgage will not apply.

7 Government recording charges: These are costs typically charged by state and local governments for recording the new legal documents associated with the transaction, such as the Deed and the Deed of Trust or Mortgage.

8 Transfer taxes: A real estate transfer tax is paid when the title passes from one owner to another. The actual amount charged by state and local governments varies.

9 Initial deposit for your escrow account: We may require an initial deposit to set up your escrow account. The reason for an early build up of funds into this account is that SunTrust Mortgage may otherwise be required to pay for real estate taxes and/or homeowner's insurance on your behalf before we have enough money to do so.

10 Daily interest charges: This charge is for the interest you will prepay from the date that SunTrust Mortgage disburses your loan proceeds through the end of the month.

11 Homeowner's insurance: For your safety and ours, we require you to have homeowner's insurance to protect the property and home from different types of loss. This box lists any required insurance premiums that must be paid either before or at closing, such as homeowner's hazard insurance and flood insurance, if applicable.

Updating closing cost estimates

If after you receive the GFE it becomes necessary to update a charge, we must disclose the change to you using a revised GFE. By law, there must be specific, documented circumstances for a lender to justify a re-disclosure of the GFE and an increase in fees. For example:

- After an inspection of the property, it is determined that the property lies within an area that's prone to flooding. Flood insurance is now required.
- When you applied for your loan, you believed interest rates would improve so you decided to float your interest rate. Eventually, you lock in the interest rate and pay discount points, which impacts the interest rate related charges originally disclosed to you.
- You change your mind about the loan program after receiving your GFE and decide to select a different loan program.

If there are circumstances that justify an increase in fees and a revised GFE, lenders are restricted to changing only the fees that relate to the changed circumstance. They are not permitted to increase unrelated charges.

Comparison tools

The final page of the GFE provides you with some additional information and comparison tools to help you shop for mortgage financing.

1 Understanding which charges can change at settlement:

Each charge on your GFE falls into one of three categories:

- Charges that cannot increase at settlement
- Charges that, in total, can increase up to 10% at settlement
- Charges that can change at settlement

In those instances where you have chosen your own service provider, rather than using the one we have identified, the associated charges can change at closing and will not be subject to restrictions on increases.

2 Using the tradeoff table:

For some loan programs, you can choose to lower your closing costs in exchange for a higher interest rate, or choose a lower interest rate in exchange for higher closing costs. The tradeoff table can be used to do some “what if” calculations of your own; or, you can ask your loan officer about any other available options.

3 Using the shopping chart:

This comparison chart is provided so you can compare multiple mortgage financing offers. Fill in each column with the information from the GFEs you receive. This will help you consider not only the interest rate or the settlement charges but all the terms of the loan and whether they meet your needs.

Understanding which charges can change at settlement

The GFE estimates your settlement charges. At your settlement, you will receive a HUD-1, a form that lists your actual costs. Compare the charges on the HUD-1 with the charges on this GFE. Charges can change if you select your own provider and do not use the companies we identify. (See below for details.)

These charges cannot increase	The total of these charges can increase up to 10%	These charges can change

In this GFE, we offered you this loan with a particular interest rate and estimated settlement charges. However:

- If you want to choose this same loan with lower settlement charges, then you will have a higher interest rate.
- If you want to choose this same loan with a lower interest rate, then you will have higher settlement charges.

If you would like to choose an available option, you must ask us for a new GFE.

Loan originators have the option to complete this table. Please ask for additional information if the table is not completed.

The loan in this GFE		The same loan with lower settlement charges	The same loan with a lower interest rate
Your initial loan amount	$	$	$
Your initial interest rate	%	%	%
Charges in the monthly amount owed from this GFE	$	$	$
Charges in this amount you will pay at settlement with this interest rate	No charge	You will pay $ more per month	You will pay $ less per month
How much your total estimated settlement charges will be	$	Your settlement charges will be reduced by $	Your settlement charges will increase by $

For an adjustable rate loan, the comparisons above are for the initial interest rate before adjustments are made.

Use this chart to compare GFEs from different loan originators. Fill in the information by using a different column for each GFE you receive. By comparing loan offers, you can shop for the best loan.
